WHAT DID THIS EXPERIENCE MAKE YOU LEARN ABOUT YOURSELF?

Ravi Bhaskar

Rotman, MBA:

It just occurred to me that if today was the last day of my life, I would want to be doing something that I did this summer. I think I have found my calling.

Laurie Asuncion

De Groote, Bcomm:

I learned that I'm really passionate about business and creating awareness about global issues.

Elana Ludman

McGill, BComm:

It was a great experience that changed my life. For the first time in my life, I was able to see the benefit and value of having a business degree. I have learned so much about myself and about others. The internship has also helped me realize what is important to me.

Magda Turlejski

JMSB, MBA:

I learned that my future concentration will be consulting in human capital. I especially enjoyed the projects which had to do with employee satisfaction and the efficiency of a new organizational structure.

Valerie Millette

JMSB, MBA:

I learned how important it is to me to be able to work as part of a team, receive feedback and see the impact of my work. I have always seen myself as someone who works well independently. This was confirmed by my ability to carry this project through quite successfully.

Susan Harnarine

Rotman, MBA:

Through this experience I learned more about my strengths and weaknesses and also what I want for my future career. My strengths that helped me complete this internship include organizational and creativity while I still need to work on my time management skills. I also learned that I prefer to work on projects where I know I am making an impact and my work is contributing to the success of the organization

Neel Venugopal

Rotman, MBA:

Many skills which I thought were common knowledge proved to be my special skills.
